

How would you define your organization's platform strategy?

In our recent whitepaper, "All Change? Crossing the Tracks to Bankings Magical New Age", 2019 data from financial institutions globally, answered the question, "How likely are you to adopt platformification?"¹

Six months later we asked the same question at our annual conference series, Finastra Universe. The number of those already using or considering a platform doubled! And financial institution adoption continues to grow. It's time to get on board now!

The appetite for collaboration and transformation is increasing at a rapid pace. More and more financial institutions are realizing the benefits of an open innovation platform.

Achieve business success faster

As the industry gains more contributors to this ecosystem of thought leaders, financial institutions will have deeper opportunities for access to rich data insights, smarter apps, and radical solutions.

What does a platform strategy look like for financial institutions?

Financial institutions are increasingly taking steps to transform and implement platform as their new reality to be successful and stay relevant. Creating more personalized and modern customer experiences is the only way to be connected to today's digital lifestyles.

FusionFabric.cloud is a scalable, open and collaborative development platform built by Finastra. The secure and proven cloud platform encourages innovation, opening up the company's core systems through APIs so that third parties can develop applications on top.

Fintechs can quickly build and promote apps worldwide. Financial institutions can access or create new services, which their customers are demanding, faster.
